A stronger way to serve

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, USA

As a hunger relief organization in Portsmouth, NH, Gather has been serving the Seacoast community for over 200 years. Recently, they expanded into a new facility designed to improve accessibility, efficiency, and food support services for the surrounding region. From its Pantry Market and Fresh Food Bus to culinary training programs and community meal initiatives, Gather is committed to creating innovative, dignified solutions that help its community thrive.

As part of the expansion, the project team prioritized solutions that would support the facility's long-term performance and daily operations.

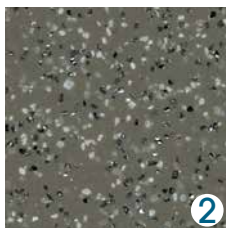

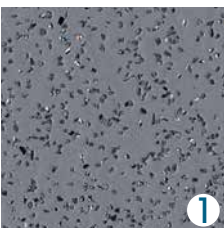

"Gather needed a durable, easy-to-maintain solution for both the commercial and teaching kitchen spaces, but comfort underfoot was also an important consideration," explained Sandra Hodge, Principal at JSA Design.

When it comes to commercial kitchen environments where safety and comfort are equally important, Altro Stronghold 30 is the go-to solution. At 3mm thick, Altro Stronghold 30 delivers the highest level of slip resistance, even in the presence of grease, oils, and other common contaminants, while its cushioned backing helps reduce fatigue by providing comfort underfoot.

"With budget and long-term performance as key priorities, Altro provided a solution that was both cost-effective and visually appealing," Sandra added.

To create a complete hygienic system for these spaces, Altro Puraguard wall protection was also installed. Designed for back-of-house and commercial kitchen environments, Altro Puraguard provides a durable, low-maintenance surface that supports hygiene and long-term performance in areas such as kitchens, dishwashing stations, pantries, storage rooms, service corridors, and janitorial spaces.

With durable, hygienic, and easy-to-maintain solutions in place, Gather can continue focusing on what matters most: supporting and strengthening its community.
